Welcome to Wave 1

Wave 1 parish campaigns are getting underway. It is important to begin with a strong start, with lots of momentum and enthusiasm. Wave 1 pastors should keep these pointers in mind as they begin their campaigns:

- Working with your Parish Campaign Director, ensure key meetings and dates are recorded on the parish calendar and everyone knows their roles in the various phases of the campaign. This will help with setting realistic benchmarks to monitor progress and ensure a successful campaign.
- Meet with your Parish Campaign Director before recruiting any volunteers for your campaign. The director will review the roles and responsibilities of Campaign Executive Committee members and prepare materials before parishioners are approached. Selecting a knowledgeable and enthusiastic committee will help in the later stages of the campaign.

- Photos play a critical role in presenting the story of the parish case. Professional-looking photos help to highlight and enhance the message. It is recommended that a professional or advanced amateur photographer be identified and work with the campaign office to produce the key photos. Photos of people require model releases.
- Always keep in mind that should there be any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to contact your Parish Campaign Director. They are your partners throughout the campaign and are always available to help.
